About the SAT Program

Throughout this booklet, references to “SAT” and “SAT Program” refer to the SAT or the SAT with Essay, as well as SAT Subject Tests™, unless otherwise noted.

The SAT

Taking the SAT is the best way to show colleges you have the skills and knowledge they want most. The SAT is focused on what you’re learning in high school and what you need to know to be successful in college.

Be Prepared

To make sure you do your best, you should take challenging courses in school and practice for test day. The best preparation for the SAT is classroom learning. Working hard and taking on challenging coursework will help you build the knowledge you need to be successful on the tests and ready for both college and career training programs.

Practice

College Board’s test developers and the online learning experts at Khan Academy® worked together to bring you Official SAT Practice.

Don’t miss out on these practice tools:

- Personalized recommendations for practice on the skills you need to work on most
- Thousands of questions, reviewed and approved by the people who develop the SAT
- Video lessons that explain problems step by step
- Full-length practice tests

Visit satpractice.org for details.

Retesting

Research shows that students who take the SAT a second time usually improve their scores. Do your best to prepare, but if your first set of SAT scores isn’t what you hoped for, you can retest and try to raise your scores.

SAT Subject Tests

SAT Subject Tests are one-hour tests in English, history, mathematics, science, and languages. They give you an additional chance to showcase your strengths and interests.

Many colleges use the SAT Subject Tests for admission, course placement, and to advise students about course selection. Some colleges specify the SAT Subject Tests they require for admission or placement; others allow applicants to choose which tests to take. Depending on your score and the college’s policies, your SAT Subject Test results may place you out of a beginner class or satisfy a basic requirement.

Who Can Take the SAT

You may take the SAT on any of 4–7 weekend administrations if you’re taking the test for its intended purposes, including:

- Applying to a college or university undergraduate program.
- Applying for scholarship, financial aid, or other programs that require a college admission test as part of their application process.

If we have reason to believe you’re not taking the SAT for its intended purposes, you may be transferred to an administration where the SAT form is disclosed after the test. In addition, College Board reserves the right to investigate and cancel the SAT registration and/or scores of anyone suspected of attempting to steal and/or share test content.

Register by Mail

Required Information for Registration

When registering for the SAT or SAT Subject Tests you’ll be asked for:

- Your full legal name as it appears on your photo ID, date of birth, gender, mailing address, and current grade level.
- Your high school code. Find it at collegeboard.org/sat-codes.
- An acceptable photo of yourself that looks like the photo on your ID and matches the way you look on test day. For more on photo ID requirements, see page 37.
- The test type, test date, and test center you’re choosing.
- Acceptance of our terms and conditions.
- Payment or a fee waiver.

When to Register by Mail

You need to register for the SAT by mail (also referred to as paper registration) if you are:

- Requesting Sunday testing for the first time. (Repeat Sunday test takers do not need to register by mail.)
- Paying by check or money order.
- Younger than 13 years old.
- Registering through an SAT International Representative.
- Unable to upload a digital photo as part of the online registration process.

Details about these registration options and restrictions are provided later in this section.
How to Register by Mail

Deadlines
See the back cover of this booklet for the 2019–20 test dates and paper registration deadlines.

Domestic Test Takers: If you’re registering to test in the U.S. or U.S. territories, your registration must be postmarked by the deadline and received in time to be processed for the requested test date. After the regular deadline, you may submit your registration up until the late registration deadline for an additional fee. If postmarked after the late deadline, your registration will be processed for the next available test date whenever possible.

International Test Takers: If you’re registering to test outside of the U.S. or U.S. territories, you must mail your registration in time for it to arrive by the regular registration deadline. If received after the deadline, your registration will be processed for the next available test date whenever possible. Register by the early registration deadline if you’re registering through an SAT International Representative. For more details about taking the SAT outside of the U.S., visit sat.org/international.

Photo Requirements
To guard against impersonation, when you register for the SAT, whether online or by mail, you must provide a recent, acceptable photo of yourself. Your photo will be added to your registration, will appear on your admission ticket, and will be required for admittance to the test center. Only students in the eighth grade and below at the time of testing are not required to provide photos during registration.

Learn more about how your personal information, including your photo, may be used on pages 53–55. If you have any concerns about the photo requirement, contact Customer Service at least 30 days before your intended test date. See the inside front cover for contact information.

Your photo helps the testing staff ensure that you are the person listed on the admission ticket. If your photo isn’t easily recognizable as you, staff won’t admit you to the center.

Make sure the photo:
- Matches your appearance on test day.
- Is a head-and-shoulders view with your entire face, both eyes, and hair clearly visible.
  - Don’t wear sunglasses.
  - Head covering is only acceptable if worn for religious purposes, and if your entire face and both eyes are visible.
- Shows only you—no other people are visible.
- Doesn’t cut off part or all of your head.
- Doesn’t show you in profile or three-quarter view.
- Wasn’t taken too close up or from too far away.
- Isn’t blurry or too light.
- Hasn’t been tampered with or digitally altered.

Submit Your Photo

If you’re registering by paper:
- Your printed photo must be at least 2 x 2 inches and no more than 2.5 x 3 inches. Do not use a laminated photo (like one on an ID card).
- Write your name, date of birth, and high school code on the back of the photo.
- Tape the photo over the barcode in field 6 of the registration form. Use clear tape around all four edges of your photo.
- Do not use paper clips, staples, or glue.

If you’re registering by phone:
- The Customer Service representative will apply your previously supplied photo to your new registration.
- If you need to submit or update a photo, you must register online or by paper and include a new photo that meets the requirements noted above.

If you’re registering online:
- Go to sat.org/photo for more on how to upload your photo.

Request to Test on a Sunday

If your religious observance doesn’t allow you to test on Saturday and you can prove this with a letter from your cleric, you can request Sunday testing. The first time you request Sunday testing, you need to register by mail as follows:
- In field 20 on the form, enter code 01000 as your first-choice test center. Leave the second-choice test center blank.
- Include a letter of explanation signed by your cleric on letterhead from your house of worship. This letter is required for paper registration.
- If you’ve already registered to test on a Saturday and need to change to Sunday testing, contact Customer Service.

NOTE: Sunday testing is not an option for students who are usually able to test on a Saturday.

You can register online or by phone for subsequent Sunday test dates without providing a new letter. When you register for Sunday testing by mail, however, you always need to include a cleric’s letter.
International Registrations

Please note the following restrictions that may apply to your registration options if you're testing outside the U.S. or U.S. territories.

- International test takers who are testing for purposes other than those noted on page 7 may only register to take the SAT in May.
- Register by paper and send in time to be received by the early deadline if you’re registering through an SAT representative. Note: you can’t pay by credit card. See below.
- You cannot request Sunday testing for testing in India or Pakistan.
- Waitlist status (see next section) is not permitted in Hong Kong, Korea, Macau, Nigeria, Singapore, Thailand, or Vietnam.

Go to sat.org/international for more information.

Centers Requiring an Additional Administrative Fee

If you choose to test at one of the following test centers, you’ll be required to pay an administrative fee of $24. Check online for the most up-to-date list at sat.org/international.

- 62250 – Asia World Expo, Hong Kong, Hong Kong (Use this code only when registering by paper for the Asia World Expo center.)
- 74731 – Embassy Lodge, Islamabad, Pakistan

Note that during registration processing, you may be reassigned to a center that requires the administrative fee, in which case you will be billed separately.

Registration Through an SAT Representative

SAT International Representatives, also known as international service providers, help test takers in their home countries. They can help you with:

- SAT registration
- In-language customer service
- Fee collection

If you register for the SAT through an SAT International Representative, you’ll need to register by paper. You must submit your registration to the representative by the early international deadline. SAT International Representatives have specific fee payment guidelines. Contact the representative for all information related to registration, deadlines, and payment. Only the representatives on pages 61–62 are authorized to accept registrations on behalf of the SAT Program. We will return registrations that are submitted through unauthorized agents.

Students Testing in Egypt
If you’re registering through AMIDEAST/Egypt, it’s possible your scores may be shared with the Ministry of Education. Please contact the representative for more information.

Restricted Registrations
As a United States–based corporation, College Board, along with our representatives overseas, is subject to U.S. economic sanctions, laws, and regulations. We are therefore prohibited from providing testing services to or accepting registrations from persons residing in certain areas, or designated by the U.S. government as Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons (collectively, “Sanctioned Persons”), unless specifically licensed or otherwise authorized by the U.S. government. Payments submitted by or for such Sanctioned Persons may have to be placed in a blocked, interest-bearing account at a U.S. financial institution. If payment is not blocked under U.S. law, it may be returned to the registrant. If, however, a payment is blocked under U.S. law, the registrant may contact the U.S. Treasury Department’s Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC). Contact SAT Customer Service (see inside front cover) to obtain the current list of restricted countries. Additional information about the U.S. government’s sanctions programs and contact information for OFAC are available at treasury.gov/resource-center/sanctions.

Waitlist Registrations
If you miss the last registration deadline, or if your paper registration has been returned unprocessed without enough time to resubmit it, you may be able to go online to request waitlist status. This status is available in most areas after the last registration deadline up until five days before test day. Test registration on test day at the test center is not available. Learn more about this online process under Special Circumstances at sat.org/register.

Asking for waitlist status doesn’t guarantee you’ll get to take the test on test day. The following policies apply to waitlist requests.

Waitlist Policies
- All normal registration requirements apply, including uploading an acceptable photo.
- You must present an acceptable photo ID from the country where you’re testing.
- The test coordinator decides who is admitted to the test center on test day. Those decisions are final.
Waitlisted students are admitted to the test center on a first-come, first-served basis.

Waitlisted students are seated after all regularly registered test takers have been admitted and if sufficient test materials, staff, and seating are available.

- If weather or another unexpected condition closes your test center, your waitlist request will be canceled and you’ll be notified. You may be able to submit a new waitlist request for another center if there’s time.
- You must bring your printed waitlist ticket and any extra documentation of your testing situation (such as your SSD eligibility approval letter).
- Waitlist registrants are not permitted to change their test type on test day, including opting in/out of the SAT Essay.

Completing the Paper Registration Form

This booklet comes with a blank registration form. Once you complete the form, place it along with your payment in the provided return envelope, which is already addressed to the SAT Program (you have to apply postage).

- Be sure to complete all required fields, which are shaded in red on the registration form and shaded in the following table. If you don’t complete the required fields, your registration will be returned to you without being processed.
- Make sure that your name, gender, date of birth, and photo accurately represent the identifying information and photo on the ID you intend to use on test day.
- See page 31 if registering to test with accommodations.
- If you need to change the name you registered under, your date of birth, or your gender on a registration once you’ve sent it in to be processed, you must contact Customer Service (see page 34 about how to correct or change your submitted registration).

Pay attention to the deadlines and required fees (see page 70 and the back cover of this booklet).

If testing outside the U.S. and U.S. territories:

- Look up the country for your first-choice center in the region list (see pages 63–69 in this booklet).
- Fill in the oval for the applicable non-U.S. region, and fill in the fee for that region (see page 70) in the boxes in 24a.
- Next, check the list of Centers Requiring an Administrative Fee on page 9. If a center you’ve chosen is on the list, fill in the oval for 24b and print the administrative fee ($24) in the boxes.
- Put the sum of the regional fee and administrative fee (if any) in 24c. Also enter this total in 25e.

25. Totals

NOTE: See page 70 for more information about fees.

1. Put your totals from 18 or 19, 21–22, and 24 in fields 25a–c and 25e, as appropriate.
2. If you’re testing in the U.S. and sending in your registration after the regular registration deadline, include the late fee in 25d.
3. If you’re testing in Canada, you may be subject to international taxes. See page 18 and, if applicable, enter the tax amount in 25e.
4. Add the amounts in 25a–25e. Print the sum in 25f, labeled TOTAL. Please add your total carefully.
5. Make sure you include all additional fees that you owe, or your registration may be delayed or returned unprocessed.

SAT Student Answer Verification Services

Use field 22 to order SAT Student Answer Verification services (these are not available for the SAT Subject Tests). These services can give test takers additional verification that their tests have been scored accurately.

Choose the service that’s available for your test date, fill in the correct oval in field 22, and enter the fee for the service chosen in field 25c.

For faster and more convenient delivery, the SAT Program now offers these services through the score reporting portal. Reports will be included for most test takers as part of the online score report. If you register by mail, you will still also receive paper copies. Paper reports take longer to process and may arrive up to six weeks after your test date.
Question-and-Answer Service (QAS)

QAS is a test-disclosure service that shows your test questions, your answers, the correct answers, and scoring instructions. You’ll also see the question designation (type or subscore relationship) and level of difficulty, and whether you answered correctly or incorrectly or omitted the answer for each test question.

- QAS is not offered for every test date. It’s available worldwide in May for Saturday, Sunday, and school-based testing dates.¹ In October and March, it’s offered only for students testing in the United States and Canada on Saturdays in test centers.
- If you’re approved for accommodations that require testing in school, the QAS is generally available for the May administration only. Call the Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD) office at least two weeks in advance of test day to see if arrangements can be made for October or March test dates.
- QAS is not offered for makeup tests even if it was offered for the associated primary test.
- The questions in your QAS report may not be in the same order as you saw on test day.

Student Answer Service (SAS)

SAS gives you a list of question types, level of difficulty, and whether you answered correctly, answered incorrectly, or omitted the answer.

- SAS is available whenever QAS isn’t offered.
- SAS can be ordered for makeup tests.

Important Information About QAS and SAS

To pay for QAS or SAS with a fee waiver, you must request the service on your registration form in field 22.

- Orders cannot be returned or canceled.
- QAS and SAS are not available for scores that have been hand-score verified. Visit sat.org/verify-scores for more information.
- If a problem prevents us from delivering your QAS or SAS, you’ll get a refund. QAS and SAS are only offered as scheduled.

Late Registration Fee

Registrations must be postmarked by the regular registration deadline to avoid late fees. If you're mailing the registration form after the regular registration deadline, you must include the late fee in field 25d or pay with a fee waiver; otherwise your registration will be processed for the next available test date whenever possible. The late registration period applies only to domestic registrations—international registrations that arrive after the regular registration deadline will be processed for the next available test date, when possible.

If registering online or by phone, check sat.org/register for late registration deadlines that apply.

International Fees

If testing outside the U.S., complete field 24 on the form by filling in the regional fee in 24a, an administrative fee if it applies (see page 9) in 24b, and adding these together in 24c. Enter the total from field 24c in the first group of boxes for 25e.

If testing in Canada, add international taxes in the second group of boxes for 25e.

- GST/HST 13141-4468RT (students in Canada)
- QST on GST (students in Quebec, Canada)

Acceptable Forms of Payment

Once you have added up all the figures in field 25 and entered the sum in the TOTAL field 25f, choose from the following forms of payment to pay for your registration.

- Credit card: You must fill in field 23 for credit card payments using one of the cards listed on the form. Credit cards are not accepted for some international registrations. See page 9 or go to sat.org/international to view a list of registration restrictions.
- Check or money order payable to College Entrance Examination Board: You can use a bank draft or international money order. Checks must be drawn on a U.S. bank.
- PayPal: In most cases, PayPal can be accepted as an electronic payment for transactions associated with registration, but you need to register online to use it.
- Fee waiver: You must enclose your completed, signed card. All fields on the fee-waiver card must be completed or your registration will be returned unprocessed. See more information on the next page.
- UNESCO coupons.

Do not send cash. Registrations received with cash or checks drawn on non-U.S. banks or forms of payment not listed above will be returned unprocessed.

For registration and testing fees and refund policies, see pages 70–71.

Check Processing

Our receipt of your payment check is your authorization for us to collect the amount of the check electronically by sending the check amount along with the check, routing, and transit account numbers to your bank. Your bank account may be debited as early as the same day we receive your payment. The original check will be destroyed and an image will be maintained in our records. We reserve the right to electronically collect your eligible payment checks, at first presentment and any representation, from the bank account the check was drawn on. Checks returned to College Board for insufficient funds will be represented electronically, and your account will be debited for the amount of the check plus the state-allowed fee.

Fee Waivers

SAT fee waivers are available to low-income students in the U.S. or U.S. territories. U.S. citizens living outside the U.S. may be able to have test fees waived. For more information about eligibility, go to sat.org/feewaivers.

What Fee Waivers Cover

- The registration fee for up to two SAT or SAT with Essay administrations (for 11th and 12th graders)
- The registration fee for up to two SAT Subject Test administrations (for 9th–12th graders; take up to three individual SAT Subject Tests on a single test day)
- Question-and-Answer Service (QAS) or Student Answer Service (SAS) if ordered with your registration (QAS and SAS aren’t available for SAT Subject Tests)
- A fee reduction for multiple-choice score verification or essay score verification
- Coverage of the non-U.S. regional fee for fee waiver–eligible U.S. students who are testing abroad

Fee Waiver Benefits

- Fee waivers can be used to register for the tests at any time through the late registration period (not applicable to international registrations). This booklet lists the paper registration deadlines. Check sat.org/register for late registration deadlines that apply to online and phone registrations.
- You’re eligible to send an unlimited number of additional score reports; you can request them at any time before graduating from high school.
- If you’re a senior who used a fee waiver to register or order score reports earlier in high school, you’ll receive college application fee waivers directly in your online account during the fall of your senior year. You can use them to apply to more than 2,000 participating colleges and universities. Your counselor may have paper versions if you can’t access the online ones.
Starting this fall, you’ll be able to fill out a CSS Profile™ for as many schools as you want for free. Use these to apply online for nonfederal financial aid from colleges, universities, professional schools, and scholarship programs, for free. See cssprofile.collegeboard.org for more information.

Important Notes About Fee Waivers

Once you have a recorded use of a fee waiver, College Board will automatically provide fee waivers and access to their benefits to you through your online account.

If you’re eligible for a fee waiver but didn’t register with one, request a fee waiver from your school counselor and enter the fee waiver code online (or on a paper form downloaded from sat.org/scores) to order additional score reports.

- Fee waivers cannot be used for requests for waitlist status.
- Once you use a fee waiver, it cannot be reused. If you miss the test you registered for, you can transfer your registration to a later date, but you’ll be charged the change fee.
- If registering by paper, you must complete all required fields on the form and the fee waiver card and enclose the completed card for your fee waiver to be accepted as valid payment.

The release of fee waiver benefits will be timed with when you become eligible to receive them. For example, fee waivers for SAT Subject Tests are available for grades 9–12 and for the SAT are available for grades 11–12.

College Board’s fee waiver program is meant to help students for whom a test fee would be a barrier to college but doesn’t replace third-party initiatives (such as district- or state-funded SAT) where they’re available.
The SAT Questionnaire

Why Answer the Questionnaire?

Field 13 on the inside of the paper registration form consists of 29 questions about you, your high school experiences, and your thoughts about college. While you don’t have to answer these questions, we strongly recommend that you do. Your responses give your school counselors and college admission officers information they can use to help you plan your future. The more information you provide, the more they can help you.

Your answers to some questions (the questionnaire identifies which ones) won’t appear on your score report but will be used by College Board for research and planning.

Your responses, when combined with those of all other students taking the SAT, contribute to an understanding of the academic preparation, extra- and cocurricular involvement, and post-high-school plans of your graduating class, which can help colleges and universities deliver programs and opportunities to serve you and your classmates.

Connect to Colleges with Student Search Service

Completing the SAT Questionnaire and saying “yes” to Student Search Service helps you connect with nearly 1,900 eligible colleges, universities, and scholarship and other educational programs that are looking for students like you. You may also provide additional information on College Board’s college planning website, BigFuture™. If you take the PSAT/NMSQT®, the SAT, SAT Subject Tests, or any AP® Exam, you can take advantage of this free service.

Being part of Student Search Service is voluntary. While most students who take the PSAT/NMSQT, AP Exams, the SAT, or SAT Subject Tests participate in this service, you may take any of these tests even if you choose not to take part in Student Search Service.

Here’s how it works:

During SAT or SAT Subject Tests registration, if you’re not already signed up, choose “yes” to be a part of Student Search Service. Your name and other information, including your address, high school grade point average, date of birth, grade level, high school, email address, intended college major, and extracurricular activities, will then be available to participating colleges and scholarship services. Please note that we never share disability status, self-reported parental income, phone numbers, or actual test scores.
Eligible colleges, universities, scholarships, and other educational programs then use Student Search Service to help them find and recruit students who are a good match for their programs. This is a great way for you to get information about colleges you're not familiar with.

Important Notes About Student Search Service

- Being part of Student Search Service is voluntary. You may take any of our tests even if you choose not to take part in Student Search Service.
- If you do not answer and have previously opted to participate in this service, we will continue providing your information. You can unsubscribe at any time by going to collegeboard.org/student-search-service or by calling Customer Service.
- Colleges participating in Student Search Service never receive student scores or phone numbers. Colleges can ask for names of students within certain score ranges, but your exact score is not reported.
- Being contacted by a college doesn’t mean you have been admitted. You must submit an application to be considered for admission.
- Student Search Service will share your contact information only with eligible accredited colleges and approved educational or scholarship programs that are recruiting students like you. This information will be used for recruitment, scholarship opportunities, and college planning outreach.
- These organizations must sign a license agreement, which outlines the specific terms the student information can be used for before it must be destroyed.
- College Board consistently monitors the use of student information by licensed organizations for compliance.
- To preserve the integrity of the information contained in the Student Search Service database, College Board reserves the right to bar or to remove, with or without notice, any student from the database.

Confidentiality

Institutions that receive your SAT scores and related data are required to maintain confidentiality of data and to adhere to College Board guidelines for using information. Your answer to the Self-Ratings question (field 27) won’t be included on score reports to designated colleges but may be provided to your high school, school district, and state.

Updating Your Information

If you register for the SAT again, you don’t need to reenter all the questionnaire information. Be sure to update any responses that may have changed. When updating, answer the entire question—your new answer will replace the old one. For example, if you've taken calculus since the last time you registered for the SAT, you should list all math courses you've completed, including calculus.

You can update your SAT Questionnaire online or by calling Customer Service.

Questionnaire Directions

For Questions 1–5, go down the list of courses and fill in those you took in that year. If you haven't taken any course in a subject and don't plan to take one in high school, fill in the oval in the “None” column. If you repeat a course, count it only once. Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD)

If you have a disability, such as a visual impairment or learning disability, you may need accommodations on SAT Program tests. For more information on SSD, go to collegeboard.org/ssd.

Examples of typical accommodations include:

- Extended time
- Computer use for essays
- Extra and extended breaks
- Reading and seeing accommodations

Practice tests are available in all formats for the SAT, including braille, MP3 audio, and assistive technology–compatible. Go to sat.org/practice for electronic formats, or contact the SSD office to order practice materials in braille or other formats. (See the inside front cover.)

General SSD Policies

- You must apply for and get College Board approval in advance of the test date you need the accommodations for.
- With some exceptions, once approved for testing accommodations on College Board tests, you don’t need to apply for accommodations again if you take another College Board test, unless your needs have changed.
- If you move to a new school after you’ve been approved for accommodations, your new school may need to confirm your continued eligibility.
- Students approved for extended time for specific subject areas (math, for example) will only get those accommodations in the relevant sections or tests.
- Bring your SSD eligibility letter with you on test day to provide documentation if needed.
- If your accommodations aren’t approved in time for your test date, you can:
  - Transfer to a later date.
  - Bring a copy of your SSD eligibility letter (if your accommodations were approved before test day), along with your photo ID and admission ticket, to the center. If there are enough materials and space, you may be able to test with your approved accommodations.
  - Take the test without your approved accommodations as long as you have parental permission (if under 18 years of age). If you feel you didn’t do your best, you can cancel your scores immediately after the test, or you can choose not to send your scores to colleges.
Applying for Accommodations

Most students get help from their school to submit a request for accommodations. Your school can request accommodations online at collegeboard.org/ssd. This is the fastest and most accurate way to request and manage accommodations for students who need them.

- If you choose to request accommodations without help from your school, you should complete a Student Eligibility Form. See collegeboard.org/ssd or contact the College Board SSD office for information.
- Submit the request as early as possible. The request process takes approximately seven weeks when documentation review is required. We recommend that you submit the form in the semester before your first College Board test (PSAT/NMSQT, AP, or SAT) of the following year. Go to collegeboard.org/ssd-calendar for specific deadlines for each test.

You may need to provide documentation of your disability and need for the requested accommodations.

Temporary Physical and Medical Conditions

If you have a temporary medical condition, such as a broken arm, you should transfer your registration to a later test date. If you’re a graduating senior and must report scores to meet a college application deadline, or if you’re taking an SAT Subject Test for a course you’re currently enrolled in, ask your school counselor to contact the College Board SSD office to see if temporary assistance can be provided. See accommodations.collegeboard.org/temporary-conditions for more detailed information.

Registering with Accommodations

The easiest and quickest way to register is online at sat.org/register. Be sure to enter your SSD number where requested. If you register by paper, include a copy of your SSD eligibility letter in the envelope with your SAT registration form.

- Check your admission ticket. If you’ve been approved for accommodations, they should be noted on the ticket. If they’re not, call the SSD office (see page 2) to ensure approved accommodations are added to your registration.
- If you’re approved for accommodations after you register, check your SAT admission ticket at least a week before test day to make sure it’s been updated. If it’s not updated, contact the SSD office.
- If your accommodations haven’t been approved as the SAT registration deadline nears, register as a standard test taker. If you are approved before the test, print your updated admission ticket after accommodations are approved.
Registration Confirmation and Changes

Your Admission Ticket
Once you’ve registered for the SAT or SAT Subject Tests, you’ll be issued an admission ticket.

Paper Tickets
If you register by mail or phone without providing an email address, or if you request a paper ticket in field 10 on the registration form, a paper ticket will be mailed to you. Call Customer Service if you haven’t received your ticket two weeks before the test date.

Online Tickets
If registering online, you receive an online version of your admission ticket that you must print and bring with you on test day. You can go back online to print the ticket at any time before your test. You’ll also be emailed a link to the printable ticket.

If you register by phone or paper and provide your email address, you’ll be emailed a link to a printable admission ticket. You must print the ticket; an electronic copy on your phone won’t be accepted for admission to the test center.

Online tickets are available to most students (unless under 13 years of age). If you registered by mail and don’t have an online account, you can create one at collegeboard.org. An online account lets us communicate any last-minute changes for test day.

Important Notes About Your Admission Ticket

- Your printed admission ticket is required for entry to the test center. Tickets on a smartphone aren’t accepted. If you don’t have your admission ticket, you won’t be allowed to test (and you won’t be entitled to a refund of any test fees). Test center staff aren’t required to hold a seat for you if you have to leave the center to get your admission ticket.

- Your name, address, date of birth, gender, and photo will be displayed on your admission ticket. The name and date of birth on your ticket must exactly match the information on the photo ID that you will present on test day.

- Your photos should resemble each other and your appearance on test day, and your gender must match what’s on the test center roster. The test coordinator will compare your appearance to both your photos and will deny you entrance to the test center if they are unsure that these match each other well enough to positively identify you.
- Your test information on the ticket, including test date, test center, and the type of test you are taking (SAT or SAT Subject Tests), must also exactly match the information on the roster for you to be admitted.
- You’ll be denied entry to the test center if the information on your admission ticket doesn’t match your ID.
- Don’t write anything on your admission ticket before or during the test.

Changes to Your Registration

Be sure to reprint your ticket if you make any changes to your registration information. If you can’t make the date you registered for, either change the date (for a fee) or cancel it. See page 71 to learn about our refund policies.

Changing Your Test Information

You can make changes to your test date, test center, and/or the type of test you’re taking. Check the date listed on your ticket under Registration Corrections to see if there’s still time to make these changes. To change test information, use your online account or call Customer Service. You’ll need a form of electronic payment (credit card or, if making changes online, PayPal) for the change fee, plus possible additional fees for a different test type.

Selecting Different SAT Subject Tests

In most cases, if you registered for SAT Subject Tests, you can choose to take any SAT Subject Test offered on test day. You won’t be charged a change fee, but you will be billed later if you add any tests. Changing tests is only possible if required materials are available.

Language with Listening Tests require shipment of CDs, which means you can’t change them on test day. However:

- If you’re a student testing in the U.S., you can add or select a different Language with Listening Test by calling Customer Service no later than the date listed on the admission ticket under Registration Corrections.
- If you’re a student testing outside the U.S., you can’t make changes involving Language with Listening Test registrations after the regular registration deadline because of shipping schedules.

Adding or Dropping the SAT Essay

When you register for the SAT, you should consider carefully whether to choose the optional SAT Essay or not. It’s a good idea to check the policies of the institutions you’re interested in at sat.org/register to see if they require it for admission. If you change your mind, you might be able to change from the SAT to SAT with Essay (or the reverse) on test day.
Changes to the Essay Option on Test Day:
- Must be requested at check-in. Students requesting a change will be seated after the other registered students, but before waitlist students, on a first-come, first-served basis, if materials and space allow.
- Are not guaranteed and will be made at the discretion of the test center staff at check-in. Changes may be declined by test center staff for various reasons, including lack of sufficient materials, staff, or seats to accommodate the change.
- Are not available to waitlist students or test takers 21 and over.
- May not be permitted in certain test centers—see sat.org/international for details.

You won’t be charged a change fee. You’ll be automatically refunded or billed for the difference between your registration choice and the test you take on test day. We’ll process the refund/charge using the payment method you used when you registered. Fee waivers cover any changes to the essay option.

Once you’re checked in and assigned a room, it’s too late to change. If you’ve chosen to take the optional essay, and decide not to write the essay, your official score report will include an SAT Essay score of zero. Also, if you leave the room before testing ends, your scores will be canceled.

Changing Your Photo or Other Personal Information
If you’re concerned that the photo you supplied doesn’t meet the requirements, you can go online up to five calendar days before the published test date to upload a new photo. You must use or create a College Board online account for this purpose.

You may make updates to your personal information (name, date of birth, or gender) after registering by contacting Customer Service no later than the Monday five days before the published test date, by 8 p.m. ET. No changes may be made after that time.

Changing Your High School Code
You can correct your high school code at no extra charge, but you must make the correction by the date listed on your ticket under Registration Corrections.

Updating Your Contact or Score Report Information
You can make changes to your contact and score report information for free through your online account or by calling Customer Service. The following changes can be made even after your test date, as long as you make the changes by the date printed on your admission ticket under Score Report Recipients:

- Mailing address, phone number, or email address.
- Score recipients already selected as part of your registration. Four score reports are free if ordered by the date on your ticket; you may add additional recipients for a fee (listed on page 70 of this booklet and on the registration form).

Test Day Policies and Requirements

As a test taker, you agree to follow these policies and requirements.

Test Security and Fairness Policies

- You must present acceptable photo ID for admission to the test center.
- Allowing someone to impersonate you to take a College Board test, or engaging in impersonation to take a test for someone else, is strictly prohibited.
- Sharing test questions or answers is prohibited at any time unless test content is released as part of a College Board service (such as the Question-and-Answer Service).
- Using phones, smartwatches, and certain other electronic devices is prohibited in SAT test centers. Staff at your test center may collect devices such as cell phones and smartwatches before testing begins. If you are observed with such a device after collection occurs, you will be dismissed from testing and your scores will be canceled.
- You are prohibited from accessing secured test materials at any time before or after the test.
- If you exit the building before testing ends, your scores will be canceled.
- While you’re taking the test, you must not allow anyone to see your test questions or your answers.
- The timing of each test section is strictly scheduled. You cannot skip ahead or go back to a previous test or test section in the test book or answer sheet while taking the SAT or SAT Subject Tests.
- If your essay is not your original and individual work, your entire test score may be canceled.
- You may not consult notes, other people, electronic devices, or any other prohibited devices or aids during the test or during breaks.
Calculators may not be shared, and may only be on your desk during the parts of the SAT and SAT Subject Tests they’re approved for.

If you don’t turn in your phone at a site that collects devices, and testing staff discovers you with it at any time, you will be dismissed and your scores will be canceled.

Violation of these policies can result in denial of entry to or immediate dismissal from the test center, cancellation of your scores, and/or a ban from future SAT and AP administrations.

On Test Day

All test centers open at 7:45 a.m. and doors close at 8 a.m., unless otherwise noted on your admission ticket. You won’t be admitted after 8 a.m. If you’re late or absent on test day, you can reschedule for a fee.

We recommend rescheduling as opposed to reregistering—it costs less. See page 33 for more information about changing your registration.

Most test centers don’t have large waiting areas, so if you arrive earlier than 7:45 a.m., you might have to wait outside until testing staff is ready to open the center.

Identification (ID) Requirements and Policies

Test center staff will compare the information on your admission ticket and your photo ID, as well as your appearance, with the test center roster to confirm your registration and identity. You will not be admitted to the test center if the information doesn’t match (for example, if your nickname is on one item but your full name is on another). The staff are not required to hold your seat if you didn’t bring acceptable ID. If you have questions about our ID requirements and policies, contact Customer Service (see inside front cover) at least 30 days prior to your intended test date.

Acceptable Photo ID

Your ID must be a valid (unexpired) photo ID that’s government issued or from the school you currently attend. Even if an ID or admission ticket photo got you into a test center before, they may not be acceptable at another time.

Forms of valid photo ID are:

- Government-issued driver’s license, driver’s permit (with photo), or non-driver ID card.
- Official student ID card from the school you currently attend. School IDs from the prior school year are valid through December of the current academic year. For example, school IDs from 2018-19 can be used through December 31, 2019.
- Government-issued passport.
- Government-issued military or national ID card (such as the U.S. Global Entry identification card).
- SAT Student ID Form.
ID documents must:

- Be an original (not photocopied).
- Show your full name exactly as it appears on your admission ticket, including the order of the names.
- Show a recent recognizable photograph that matches your appearance on test day and your admission ticket photo.
- Be in good condition, with legible English language text.

Using the SAT Student ID Form

If you don’t have another form of acceptable ID, you may be able to use the SAT Student ID Form, available online at sat.org/test-day.

Circumstances Affecting ID Requirements

- If you’re in waitlist status, you must present an acceptable school- or government-issued photo ID from the country where you’re testing.
- If you’re in the eighth grade or below at the time of testing and are testing for Talent Search purposes, a valid Talent Search Identification Form is acceptable. In all other cases, you must present an acceptable photo ID.
- If you’re 21 or older, you must present a government-issued photo ID or your passport. Student ID cards are not valid for test takers 21 or older.
- International students:
  - If you’re testing in Ghana, Nepal, Nigeria, or Pakistan, you must present your passport.
  - If you’re testing in India, you must present your passport or a valid Aadhar card with your name and photograph.
  - If you’re testing in Egypt, Korea, Thailand, or Vietnam, you must present your passport or a valid national ID from the country where you’re testing. If you travel to another country to test, you must provide a passport as identification.

Unacceptable ID

The following documents will not be accepted as proper ID under any circumstances:

- Any document that does not meet the requirements provided by College Board
- Any document that is worn, torn, scuffed, scarred, or otherwise damaged
- Any document that appears tampered with or digitally altered
- Any document that bears a statement such as “not valid as identification”
Examples of unacceptable ID:
- Credit or debit card of any kind, even one with a photograph
- Birth certificate
- Social Security card
- Employee ID card
- Missing child (ChildFind) ID card
- Any temporary ID card

Items to Bring for Testing

What to Bring:
- Printed admission ticket, which is required for entry to the test center
- Acceptable photo ID
- Two No. 2 pencils with soft erasers
- An acceptable calculator for math sections/tests that permit them
- Acceptable battery-operated CD player with earphones for the Language with Listening Tests only—no power cords or portable stereos are permitted

- Epinephrine auto-injector (e.g., EpiPens) in a clear plastic bag if you need one

Nice to Have:
- A watch (without an audible alarm or communication/recording capabilities; smartwatches will be collected before testing)
- A bag or backpack (which must be stored under the desk during testing)
- Snacks and drinks (which must be packed away during testing)
- Extra batteries and backup equipment (which must be stored under the desk during testing)

What Not to Bring
Prohibited devices and other aids include, but aren’t limited to:
- Mobile phones or smartphones (phones will be collected before the test, and returned before dismissal)
- Audio players (with the exception of CD players used for Language with Listening Tests only) or recorders
- Tablets, laptops, notebooks, or any other personal computing devices, including wearable technology

Phones and Electronic Devices Policy
Devices that can be used to communicate test content or share answers are not allowed in the test center. You may not bring electronics of any kind with you on test day.

If, however, you forget to leave a device at home, you’ll be instructed to turn off all electronic devices and give cell phones and wearable technology to the staff in your testing room before the test begins. Be sure to turn off your watch alarm, if you have one. Test centers are serious about security and ensuring a quiet testing environment, so prohibited devices must not make any sounds during testing.

If your device makes noise (even if collected by the proctor) or you are seen with it at any time, including during breaks, you may be dismissed immediately, your scores can be canceled, and the device may be collected and its contents inspected. College Board and your test center are not responsible for loss of or damage to personal items, including electronic devices, while you’re in the test center.

College Board regularly bolsters its security efforts in order to protect the integrity of the test and ensure a fair SAT administration. From time to time, College Board, ETS and its testing staff may employ enhanced security measures, such as the use of metal detecting wands to detect mobile phones and other electronic devices. Test takers should be prepared to undergo these security measures to ensure a fair testing environment.

The test administration staff are required to collect and hold phones and other prohibited electronic devices during the test administration, including break periods, or to deny admission to anyone in possession of a prohibited electronic device.

Acceptable Equipment—Calculators and CD Players
You’re responsible for bringing the equipment needed for testing (with the exception of some equipment needed for approved accommodations); that is, an acceptable calculator for the SAT or SAT Subject Tests in Mathematics, and an acceptable CD player for Language with Listening Tests. If you can, you should bring backup equipment and extra batteries on test day in case your calculator or CD player malfunctions before or during the test.
Calculator and CD Player Rules

You can only use certain kinds of calculators or CD players as explained in this section. Here are the other rules to bear in mind:

- You can’t share your calculator or CD player.
- If you use your calculator or CD player to share or exchange information during the test, or to remove test questions or answers from the test room, you’ll be dismissed and your scores canceled.
- If you’re using a calculator with a large (characters one inch high or more) or raised display that might be visible to other test takers, the proctor may move you to another seat.
- If the volume on your CD player disturbs other test takers, the proctor may ask you to lower the volume or move to another seat.

Use of Calculators During the SAT and SAT Subject Tests

You’re permitted to use a calculator on the Math Test – Calculator portion of the SAT and the Subject Tests in Mathematics. Bring a calculator you’re comfortable using. See The SAT Student Guide and The SAT Subject Tests Student Guide for more information about recommended calculators.

You may only use a calculator on the Math Test – Calculator portion of the SAT and the Subject Tests in Mathematics. The only exception is if you’re approved by College Board to use a four-function calculator on the Math Test – No Calculator portion as an accommodation. (Percent and square-root functions are permitted.)

Acceptable Calculators

Only battery-operated, handheld equipment can be used for testing. No power cords are allowed. A list of acceptable graphing calculators is given in the Student Guides and online at sat.org/calculator. Calculators permitted during testing include:

- Most graphing calculators
- All scientific calculators
- All four-function calculators (not recommended)

Unacceptable Calculators

You’re not allowed to use any of the following items as a calculator (unless approved as an accommodation):

- Laptops or other computers, tablets, mobile phones, or smartphones.
- Models that can access the internet, have wireless, Bluetooth, cellular, audio/video recording and playing, camera, or any other smartphone-type feature.
- Models that have a QWERTY (typewriter-like) keypad, pen-input, or stylus.
Models that use electrical outlets, make noise, or have a paper tape. In addition, the use of hardware peripherals such as a stylus with an approved calculator is not permitted. Some models with touch-screen capability are not permitted (e.g., Casio ClassPad).

Use of CD Players During the Language with Listening Tests

The CD player you bring to the test:
- Must be handheld and battery-operated (no power cords are allowed)
- Must be equipped with headphones
- Can't have recording or duplicating capabilities
- Can’t be part of a portable stereo (they’re not permitted)

Taking the Tests

Use these guidelines as you take your seat in the test room.
- Plan ahead and bring equipment that’s in good working order. Test center staff won’t have extra batteries, calculators, CD players, or earphones.
- When marking answers in your test booklet:
  - Use a No. 2 pencil with a soft eraser on all parts of the answer sheet. Do not use a pen or mechanical pencil.
  - Make sure you fill in the entire bubble darkly and completely.
  - Erase any changes you make as completely as possible.
- On the SAT, there’s no penalty for guessing; you simply earn points for the questions you answer correctly. Try to give your best answer to every question—there’s no advantage to leaving them blank.
- On the Subject Tests, you do lose partial points for incorrect answers, so only guess if you can eliminate some of the answers.
- Use a watch to time yourself—no separate timers or alarms are allowed, as they distract other test takers. Choose a watch that doesn’t have advanced communication or recording features (these are not allowed and will be collected from you in the testing room).
- Do not skip sections, and do not leave your answer sheet blank. Doing this could result in score cancellation and/or delays.
- We occasionally pretest new questions to determine if they should be included in a future SAT test form. These questions may appear in any of the test sections, and testing time will be extended by 20 minutes so test takers have time to answer them. These questions will not be included in computing test takers’ scores. Scored test items and entire test forms may be used in more than one test administration. Students must complete all sections of the test. If you leave before dismissal, your scores will be canceled.
Store any snacks or drinks you bring out of sight in your backpack or a paper bag. You may only eat snacks during breaks.

Keep your ID and admission ticket with you at all times, especially if you leave the testing room. You may be asked to show your ID or admission ticket at any time while in the test center. Do not write on the admission ticket.

What to Do if Your Equipment Fails

If your equipment malfunctions during the test, raise your hand and tell the proctor. If you have backup equipment, ask the proctor for permission to switch to it.

- If your calculator fails while you’re taking the SAT, you can continue to test, or you can cancel your scores. You’ll have to cancel your entire test score—you cannot cancel just the Math Test.
- If your calculator or CD player fails while you’re taking an SAT Subject Test, you can cancel the score for just that one test as long as you notify the proctor during the test. In all other cases, if you wish to cancel one test, you must cancel all tests you take during a single administration.

Makeup Testing

During bad weather, natural disasters, power outages, or other unusual conditions, test centers may be closed. Check sat.org/test-center-closings for test center closings on Friday night and Saturday morning before you go to the test center. Information about makeup testing is posted as it’s available. If a makeup date has been confirmed, that information is included.

The following are policies for makeup testing:

- The availability of makeup testing and who is eligible to take a makeup test are at the sole discretion of College Board.
- You may only take tests that you registered to take on the original date. During check-in only, you may be able to change your SAT Essay option, if the test coordinator can accommodate this request.
- Waitlist registrants are not eligible to take a makeup test.
- Sunday testing is offered for religious reasons only, not for makeup testing.
- Access to scores from makeup administrations may be delayed by several weeks.
- The Question-and-Answer Service (QAS) isn’t offered for makeup tests, even if it was available for the original test date.
Scores

Receiving and Sending Scores

The reports received by you, your high school, and colleges contain scores that have been converted to College Board's 200–800-point scale. The SAT includes additional scores that offer insights into your skill levels. College Board doesn’t use either your raw score or your reported scaled score by itself or in combination with any other information to predict your individual future academic performance at specific postsecondary institutions. However, College Board does help individual colleges and universities use and interpret SAT and SAT Subject Test scores. Test scores are the property of College Board.

Score Reports with Registration

Score reports will be automatically provided to you and your high school and to the institutions you designate as part of your registration. You and your high school will see all of your scores from all registrations. The colleges, universities, and scholarship programs you designated during registration will receive only the scores from your upcoming registration unless you change the default in your online College Board account.

- The colleges you choose to receive score reports will have access to a copy of your essay if you took the SAT with Essay.
- Each time you take the SAT, SAT with Essay, or an SAT Subject Test, the scores are added to your College Board record.
- If you want to change where your scores are sent, you have until 9 days after the published test date to alter your 4 free score reports at no charge. After that, you’ll be charged the additional score report request fee for any added or changed report requests.

Online Score Report

On or about the score release date, you can sign in to view your scores easily at studentscores.collegeboard.org. (You can also get your report by phone from Customer Service for an additional fee.) Be sure to set up a free account to access your online score report, which will include detailed information about your scores, insights into your strengths and areas that need improvement, and how your scores compare to those of other students. You can also link to your Khan Academy account to get personalized study plans based on your results.

Mailed Score Report

If you register by paper and don’t have a personal online College Board account, your score report will be mailed to you. You can also request a paper report when you register online.
Delayed Scores
Scores can be delayed for various reasons; if your scores are subject to any unusual delays, we’ll notify you. If your score report isn’t available online when expected, you should check back the following week. If you haven’t received your online report within two weeks after the score release date, or your mailed score report within six weeks after the score release date, contact Customer Service by phone or email. Score release dates can be found at sat.org/scores.

Sending Additional Score Reports After You Test
You can order score reports at any time after you test (see the back of this booklet for fees).

- The easiest way to order score reports is through your online account. If you need to order by mail, you or your school counselor can download and print an order form from sat.org/resources.
- Your additional score reports will be sent to your designated colleges 1–3 weeks after the request is received.
- When you order the score sends, you can decide what scores to send, using Score Choice™.
- If you are eligible for fee waivers, you can send your scores for free.

Score Choice
Score Choice is an option that lets you choose which scores you send to selected colleges for admission purposes and which scores you send to selected scholarship programs. Please note that different colleges and scholarship programs use SAT scores in different ways.

- College and scholarship program-specific SAT score-use practices referenced in Score Choice materials are based on information provided to us by each participating college or scholarship program.
- The description of a particular SAT score-use practice in the Score Choice materials might not include every aspect of how a college or scholarship program uses a student’s score for admission decisions; additionally, SAT score-use practices for a particular college or scholarship program may change periodically and may not be automatically updated in Score Choice. We recommend that you verify the SAT score-use practices of the colleges or scholarship programs you’re sending your scores to.
- We’re not responsible for the accuracy of the information or the consequences of your decisions.
- Your high school will continue to have access to all of your scores.
Sending Scores to College and University Systems

In certain college and university systems, once you submit your score to one school, other schools in that system will also have access to your score. However, if you’re applying to more than one school in a college or university system, it’s still important for you to send your SAT scores to each individual school. If you’re not sure whether the school you’re applying to is part of such a system, contact the school’s admission office.

If you’ve decided to participate in the Student Search Service, colleges and universities may identify you to give you materials about college admission and financial aid. Student Search Service does not report your course grades, test scores, phone numbers, or Social Security number to these organizations, but organizations can request student information based on a variety of criteria, which may include score range or other variables such as geographical location or expressed interests.

Scholarships

College Board automatically reports scores to certain U.S. government and state scholarship programs, such as the Presidential Scholars Program, to be used as one source of information to recognize student achievement. College Board automatically reports scores and identifying information (including email address) for Presidential Scholar consideration for test takers in all states, the District of Columbia, U.S. territories, and Puerto Rico, and for U.S. citizens abroad so you don’t have to use one of your free score reports.

Releasing Your Scores to the New York State Scholarship Program:

The New York State Scholarship Program requires that New York State students who wish to be considered for the Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarships and Regents Scholarships at Cornell University on the basis of their SAT scores take the SAT before November 1, 2019. The latest published SAT administration date that meets this deadline is October 5, 2019.

The New York State Standardized Testing Law requires that you specifically authorize sending all reports. Your SAT scores and other information from your record will be sent to the scholarship program if you authorize the release of your scores when you apply for a scholarship. To do that, you must answer “yes” and sign the score release statement in the scholarship application. There’s no fee when your report is sent to the New York State Scholarship Program.

Scholarship application forms are sent by the State Education Department to principals of all high schools in New York State in December or January. College Board releases to the New York State Scholarship Program names, addresses, and other identifying information of seniors who registered to take the SAT prior to November 1, 2019, who are New York State residents and applied for scholarship(s). These are matched to student files and the scores of all students who authorized their release are sent to the program. If you don’t want your name and address released for this purpose, notify College Board SAT Program, NYS Scholarship Program, P.O. Box 025505, Miami, FL 33102.

Managing Your Scores

How to Cancel Scores

Cancellations must be received by 11:59 p.m. U.S. ET on the fourth business day following the test. If you’re testing on a day other than a published weekend administration date, check with the test coordinator for the deadline that applies to you. Once we receive your request, your scores cannot be reinstated. Please note:

- You cannot cancel individual section scores of the SAT. If you want to cancel your entire SAT test score, you must contact us by the specified deadline.
- For SAT Subject Tests, if you erase all your answers for one Subject Test, or if you request to cancel your scores, all your tests taken that day will be canceled (except in the case of equipment failure). Remember that Score Choice (see page 44) lets you choose which Subject Test scores to send.
- Your signature is required to cancel scores. You can cancel your scores by fax or overnight mail (see “Test Day Contact Information” at the beginning of this booklet).
- Email or phone requests cannot be accepted. You can download a Request to Cancel Test Scores form from sat.org/cancel-scores.
- If you cancel your scores, they’ll be removed from your record and won’t be sent to any colleges or programs you selected as score report recipients on your registration.
- Unless you cancel your scores, all scores will remain on your record, even if you decide not to send them to any colleges or programs. Your full score history is kept on file. Canceling requests to have score reports sent is not the same as canceling your scores.

Keeping Scores on File

Your test scores, your responses to the SAT Questionnaire, and related personal information that you provide to College Board become part of your student record and are kept indefinitely, unless you tested before entering the ninth grade. If you test in the eighth grade or before, your scores are removed from your file at the end of the school year when you tested. If you don’t want your scores removed, you must let us know before the end of August of the academic year in which you tested. (See Special Circumstances online at sat.org/register for the latest date to notify us.) Send a letter, signed by you and your parents, requesting that College Board keep your scores. Please include your name, your identification information, registration number, and test date. Send to: College Board SAT Program, Attention: Talent Search Scores, P.O. Box 025505, Miami, FL 33102.

Verifying Your Scores

Score verification services include the Student Answer Service for the SAT, explained on page 17. You can request a more comprehensive multiple-choice hand-scored verification or essay score verification or both, up to five months after the test date, by printing and completing a Request for SAT Score Verification form, available online at sat.org/verify-scores. Read the information on the form carefully before requesting this service. There is a fee for this service. If you used a fee waiver to pay SAT registration fees, the score verification fee will be reduced.

Missing Scores

If previous scores are missing from your score report, call Customer Service (see inside front cover) or write to: College Board SAT Program, Attention: Unreported Scores, P.O. Box 025505, Miami, FL 33102. Provide identification information, test dates, and previous score recipients you want updated reports sent to. Reports that can be located will be sent at no charge and included in future requests.

Ordering Older Scores

Scores can be ordered for test takers who tested before 2005. Older scores must be ordered using the paper form available at sat.org/scores or by contacting Customer Service. We will charge an additional fee to cover the cost of looking up your scores, whether or not scores can be located. The normal response time for score delivery may not apply. Some older scores may take longer to locate, and College Board cannot guarantee that older scores can always be retrieved.

Official score reports sent to colleges 5 or more years after a test date will include a message explaining that they may be less valid predictors of college academic performance than more recent scores would be. This message also notifies colleges that for SAT Subject Tests, the test taker’s knowledge of the subject may change given additional study in the area, and scores may become less valid predictors within a shorter time period.
Additional Terms and Conditions

The testing policies and other information in this guide apply to every SAT test administration. From time to time College Board might update these policies. We encourage you to review the latest policies at sat.org/test-security.

- By registering for the SAT, you’re certifying that you are the person whose personal information is being provided for this registration and that the information you are supplying is accurate. Giving false or misleading information about yourself, such as name, address, date of birth, current grade level, expected graduation date, attending high school, or photo can result in an investigation, cancellation of scores, and a testing ban for College Board assessments, and such other actions as College Board, in its sole discretion, deems appropriate. We reserve the right to cancel scores from College Board test administrations that occurred prior to the test administration at issue.

- When someone registers for you, we will interpret that as you giving them permission to do so, and to agree to the testing polices and guidelines on your behalf.

- If you register for the test by paper and do not sign the paper registration form, by sending in your form along with payment, you are indicating your agreement with the SAT policies and guidelines located in this booklet.

- If your school participates in a bulk registration process for the test, College Board may receive your personal information, including first name, last name, gender, date of birth, and mailing address, from your school. This information will be kept secure and added to your permanent College Board record to be used for score-reporting purposes as well as the other purposes that are outlined in this guide and in registration materials. By taking the SAT test and signing the SAT answer sheet, you acknowledge that your school has supplied this information to College Board and consent to College Board retaining it.

- Creating multiple College Board student accounts, intentionally or inadvertently, is strictly prohibited and can result in an investigation and/or the merging of relevant records.

- If you want to cancel your scores, your request must be received by the fourth business day after a test administration. Once you submit your request to cancel scores, your scores cannot be reinstated and are not reported to you or your designated institutions.

- Each time you test, you can choose those colleges or scholarship programs you want to send your scores to. The first four are included with your test registration fee. If you’re undecided about where to send your scores, you can add or change your score recipients online. Corrections and additions to your score report recipients can be made online until nine days after the test. The four score-sending requests included with registration cannot be applied to past or future score-sending requests or registrations.

- When you send scores as part of your test registration, only scores associated with that test date will be sent. You can change this default through your online account.
- For additional score report requests, only score reports from completed and scored tests are sent to your colleges and scholarship programs. Scores from tests you registered for but haven’t yet completed are not included. You can send all your scores to an institution, or you can choose which scores to send an institution by test date for the SAT and by individual test taken for SAT Subject Tests. Score Choice is optional; if you decide not to use it when sending additional scores, College Board will send only your scores from your upcoming registration to the recipient institutions.
- Most, but not all, scores will be reported online and available by phone several weeks after the test date. Your score report will be delivered to the high school, colleges, universities, and scholarship programs you indicated when you registered, and additional score report requests will be delivered a few weeks after the request is received. A paper copy of your score report can be requested at the time of registration.
- SAT Program policies are subject to change at any time for test security or other reasons. The SAT Program will attempt to provide adequate prior notice, although circumstances may limit our ability to do so.
- College Board will not be responsible for personal property, including prohibited items, brought to the test center on test day that becomes lost, stolen, or damaged.
- All personal property brought into the test center, such as purses, bags, backpacks, mobile phones, calculators and other electronic devices, may be subject to search at the discretion of College Board, ETS, and its testing staff. Searches may include the use of tools, such as metal detecting wands or other methods, that detect prohibited devices and/or their use. College Board, ETS, and its testing staff may confiscate and retain for a reasonable period of time any personal property suspected of having been used, or capable of being used, in violation of our Test Security and Fairness policies, for further investigation.
- In certain cases, including where there is unexpected volume in a particular area or for test security reasons, College Board reserves the right to move test takers to a different location or to a subsequent test administration.
In the event of a test security–related concern, public health threat, natural disaster, terrorist act, or other unexpected event or circumstance, College Board may cancel testing for all or a particular group of test takers. When this occurs, the SAT Program notifies test takers in advance if possible. We will communicate test cancellations and, where feasible, alternative test dates for affected test takers.

To ensure the integrity of the SAT Program, College Board reserves the right to bar any individual or group of individuals from registering for and/or taking any College Board test.

If College Board becomes aware that you or someone else may be in imminent danger, including a determination based on the content of your essay, we reserve the right to contact the appropriate individuals or agencies, including your high school or law enforcement agencies. We may also provide the relevant essay or other content, along with any personal information, to those contacted.

Except as otherwise indicated in this guide, College Board and its agents and contractors shall not be liable for any damages, including consequential, direct, indirect, or punitive, arising from or otherwise related to SAT test development and administration, score reporting, test security, or the failure of SAT testing staff, students, schools or school districts to comply with College Board’s policies and procedures, whether or not (A) the claim is contract-based or (B) College Board has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

Other than disputes involving an “Invalid Scores” review (discussed in the “Invalid Scores” section) or infringement of College Board’s intellectual property rights, all disputes against College Board and/or any or all of its contractors, that relate in any way to registering for or taking the SAT, including but not limited to requesting or receiving test accommodations, score reporting, and the use of test taker data, shall exclusively be resolved by a single arbitrator through binding, individual arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association (“AAA”), under the AAA Consumer Arbitration Rules in effect at the time a request for arbitration is filed with the AAA. Copies of the AAA Rules can be located at www.adr.org. Unless the parties mutually agree otherwise, the seat and the place of the arbitration shall be New York, New York. The parties agree that the Federal Arbitration Act (“FAA”), 9 U.S.C. § 1 et seq. governs this provision, and it is the intent of the parties that the FAA shall pre-empt all State laws to the fullest extent permitted by law. No arbitration may be maintained as a class action, and the arbitrator shall not have the authority to combine or aggregate the disputes of more than one individual, conduct any class proceeding, make any class award, or make an award to any person or entity not a party to the arbitration, without the express written consent of College Board. By agreeing to arbitration in accordance with this section, you are waiving your right to have your dispute heard by a judge or jury. Each party will be responsible for its own fees and expenses incurred in connection with the arbitration, regardless of its outcome. For purposes of this provision, each College Board contractor is a third party beneficiary of this section, is entitled to the rights and benefits hereunder, and may enforce the provisions hereof as if it were a party hereto.

- College Board or its designee may use methods to capture images, video, or audio at any or all test centers to ensure test security. The resulting images or recordings, which may permit College Board to identify specific individuals, may be collected, stored, reviewed, and used for the purposes of (1) identifying and/or investigating possible SAT test security incidents; (2) collecting evidence in connection with possible SAT test security incidents; and (3) enhancing SAT test security. These images and/or recordings are maintained following the test administration for as long as reasonably necessary for the purposes specified. Thereafter the images and recordings are securely destroyed. College Board will NOT use or disclose such information except as described above, as requested by law enforcement, and/or as reasonably necessary to protect the rights and property of College Board or third parties.

- We occasionally pretest new questions to determine if they should be included in a future version of the SAT. These questions may appear in any of the test sections, and testing time will be extended by 20 minutes so students have time to answer them. They will not be included in computing students’ scores. Scored test items and entire test forms may be used in more than one test administration.

- College Board takes steps to ensure that registration records are properly handled and processed, and that answer sheets are properly handled and scored. In the unlikely event of a problem with shipping or otherwise processing registration materials, answer sheets, or score reports, or with scoring the test, or score reporting, College Board will correct the error, if possible, schedule a makeup test for impacted test takers, or provide a refund of the test fee. These are the sole remedies for test takers in relation to such issues. College Board has sole discretion in determining whether to score lost answer sheets that are eventually recovered.

Privacy Policy—Use of Student Information

College Board recognizes the importance of protecting your privacy. See collegeboard.org/privacy-policy for complete data on privacy information.

During the registration process, we ask students for: name, address, date of birth, gender, student ID, and address. We may also ask for phone numbers and email addresses, school name, grade level or expected graduation date, ethnicity, and a parent's name, email address, and education level.

Sometimes schools will give us students’ personal information to register these students for College Board tests. Schools may share students’ names, addresses, dates of birth, and gender, and in certain circumstances information about students to help College Board determine if they qualify for fee waivers. Students provide any remaining personal information themselves.

We only share student information for the following educational purposes (or under court order).

- We report scores to students and their schools, districts, and states to help measure educational progress and support students on their path to college.
- If students request it, we use information to send customized college planning information.
- We use student information to give SAT college application fee waivers and other benefits to income-eligible students.
- We share a limited amount of personal data with our partners—only what's needed for administering testing services and producing student score reports.
- On our website, we use student information to customize and personalize the content users see, such as important reminders about SAT test dates and college-planning milestones.
- We share de-identified student information with researchers so they can study it for College Board programs and services that help solve education issues.
- If there’s an investigation involving validity of a student’s test scores, a photo of the student may be sent to institutions that received the scores. Any college given access to the photo must certify that it has admitted the student.
- If requested by government agencies, we will provide student information without receiving a subpoena when the status of the investigation prevents issuance.

Students’ use of Khan Academy practice resources will be governed by the Terms and Conditions on the Khan Academy website.

You’re required to provide certain information, such as your name, your high school name and school code, and other personal information during the registration process. College Board maintains records of the personal information and photo that you provided at the time of registration for each test date, which are used for the photo admission ticket required for test center entry. You may also choose to disclose other personal information for scholarship purposes, Student Search Service, score reporting to institutions other than your high school, and when receiving communications from College Board.
College Board will disclose scores to a student's parent or guardian if the parent or guardian is able to supply the required authentication information, unless College Board determines in its sole discretion that its records on the student contain a court order, state statute, or legally binding document relating to matters such as divorce, separation, or custody that restricts the parent's or guardian's access to the student's scores. College Board will not independently investigate whether a court order, state statute, or legally binding document exists other than in its records; instead, relevant documents and information must be submitted to College Board. College Board reserves the right to request additional documents and information in connection with determining whether or not to disclose scores to a parent or guardian.

To request removal of a permanent College Board student record, call Customer Service or write to College Board, Attention Customer Service.

Telemarketing and Internet Scams
We sometimes get reports of phone scams when callers posing as employees of College Board try to sell test-preparation products or request sensitive, personally identifying information, such as credit card and Social Security numbers. College Board does not make unsolicited phone calls or send emails to students or families requesting this type of information. This type of activity, known as telemarketing fraud, is a crime.

Grounds for Score Cancellation
College Board and ETS (College Board’s test administrator) reserve the right to dismiss test takers, decline to score any test, and/or cancel any test scores when, in our sole judgment, as applicable, a testing irregularity occurs; there is an apparent discrepancy in the test taker’s identification; a test taker is improperly admitted to the test center; a test taker engages in misconduct; based on a test taker’s testing history, the validity of the score is suspect; or the score is deemed invalid for another reason, including, but not limited to, discrepant handwriting, unusual answer patterns, or plagiarism. Pending investigations are kept confidential, but results of completed investigations may be communicated to intended score recipients, including if investigation indicates attempts to gain an unfair advantage through actions such as impersonation, use of prohibited items, or attempts to send/receive test content. College Board and ETS strive to protect the privacy of test takers whose scores are questioned. However, if the test taker publicizes the investigation, College Board and ETS reserve the right to make details of such investigation public.

When, for any of these reasons, we cancel a test score that has already been reported, we’ll notify score recipients that the score was canceled, but we won’t disclose the reason for cancellation unless authorized to do so by the test taker, if there is suspected impersonation, in certain cases that affect a group of test takers, in certain cases where there is an attempt to gain an unfair advantage, or where required by law.

Testing Irregularities Testing irregularities refer to problems or irregular circumstances or events associated with the administration of a test; they may affect an individual or groups of test takers. Such problems include, without limitation, administrative errors (e.g., improper timing, improper seating, accommodations not approved by College Board, defective materials, and defective equipment), evidence of possible preknowledge or sharing of secure test content or responses (including analysis of test administration and response information), and other disruptions of test administrations (e.g., natural disasters and other emergencies).

When testing irregularities occur, we may cancel an administration or individual registrations, decline to score all or part of the test, or cancel the test score. We may do this whether or not the affected students caused the testing irregularities, benefited from them, or engaged in misconduct. We are solely responsible for determining whether testing irregularities have occurred, and our decisions are final. When it is appropriate to do so, we give affected test takers the opportunity to take the test again as soon as possible, without charge. These are the sole remedies available to test takers as a result of testing irregularities. Students and parents may not review scores from the affected administration before choosing the option of taking a makeup test. See page 42 for more information about makeup testing.

Identification Discrepancies When there’s a discrepancy in a test taker’s identification or photograph on the admission ticket, or the photo doesn’t meet our requirements, the test taker may be denied admission to or dismissed from the test center; in addition, we may decline to score the test, or immediately cancel the test score. If the photo on your admission ticket doesn’t match your ID, you might not be admitted to the test center.

Misconduct When we determine misconduct in connection with a test, the test taker may be dismissed from the test center, or we may decline to score the test or may cancel the test score. Test takers whose scores are canceled due to misconduct will forfeit test and registration fees. Misconduct includes, but is not limited to:

- Removing any test questions or essay topics from the testing room, including through memorization, giving them to anyone else, or discussing questions or responses with anyone else through any means, including, but not limited to, email, text messages, or the internet.
- Improperly accessing the test, a part of the test, or information about the test, or the test center.
- Referring to, looking through, or working on any test, or test section in the test book or answer sheet, other than during the testing period for that test or test section.
- Referring to, or looking through, any test or test section while leaving the answer sheet blank.
- Attempting to give or receive assistance, including by copying; discussion or sharing of test content during the test administration, during breaks or after the test; communication with other test takers in any form while testing is in session in the testing room.
- Possessing any prohibited items such as, but not limited to, mobile phones, smartphones, smartwatches, other oral or written communication devices or wearable technology, notes and reference books, etc., in connection with the test, including during breaks.
- Sharing or other misuse of equipment, including using a calculator on a test or test section you’re not allowed to use calculators for.
- Consuming food or drink in an unauthorized manner.
- Leaving the test room without permission.
- Leaving the building at any time during the test administration, including during breaks.
- Attempting in any manner to remove from the test room any part of a test book, any test questions or responses, or any notes relating to the test.
- Attempting to take the test for someone else or attempting to have someone else impersonate you to take the test.
- Disturbing others or refusing to follow instructions given by test center staff.
- Refusing to follow any of the test administration regulations in this registration booklet, in other registration materials, or given by the test coordinator.
Testing History Based on a test taker’s testing history, their scores may be canceled without applying procedures normally used for students as explained in the Invalid Scores section. College Board reserves the right to report a test taker’s testing history to institutions that inquire as part of a test security investigation.

Invalid Scores We may also cancel scores if there’s substantial evidence that they’re invalid for any other reason. Evidence of invalid scores may include, without limitation, plagiarism, discrepant handwriting, unusual answer patterns, paraphrasing of text from published sources, and essays that aren’t independent compositions.

Before canceling scores we notify the test taker in writing via email if possible, about our concerns, let the test taker submit information addressing them, and consider any submitted complaints. If substantial evidence still exists that the scores aren’t valid, we offer the test taker options that may include voluntary score cancellation, a free retest under closely monitored conditions, or arbitration in accordance with ETS’s standard Arbitration Agreement. When notifying the test taker about concerns, we send a copy of the booklet Why and How Educational Testing Service Questions Test Scores, which explains this process in greater detail. (Any test taker may request a copy of this booklet at any time.)

If at any time before, during, or after a review of questionable scores, we determine that test misconduct has occurred, we may treat the matter under our misconduct procedures; in that case, the options described as applicable for invalid scores or testing irregularities will not be available, even if those options were previously offered.

The retest option is available only for tests administered in the United States, U.S. territories, and Canada. The arbitration option is available only for tests administered in the United States and U.S. territories.

Suspected Impersonation In cases where we believe that someone other than the registered test taker took the test for the registered test taker, and in other cases where required or permitted by law, we may refer the matter to law enforcement and inform the registered test taker’s parent(s), legal guardian(s), high school, and colleges and other institutions the registered test taker requested scores be sent to. The registered test taker specifically acknowledges, and agrees to, such disclosure.

Reporting Violations

If we find that you have gained or attempted to gain or share an unfair advantage on any College Board test, we reserve the right to share this information with your high school, any other score recipients, law enforcement, and any other government agencies in the U.S. or abroad. We encourage you to report any suspected violation of Test Security and Fairness policies, or any security issues, as soon as possible to testsecurity@info.collegeboard.org.
Required Information for Students
Testing in California or New York State

The California Education Code requires that you be given certain information about the purposes of the tests, property rights of the test subject and test agency to the test scores, procedures for releasing score reports, and score interpretation.

Statistical information related to the use of test scores in predicting future grade point averages must be provided to test takers prior to the administration of the test or coinciding with the initial reporting of test scores. The New York State Standardized Testing Law requires that certain information about the purposes of the test, property rights of the test taker and test agency to the test scores, test fairness and equity, procedures for releasing score reports and for reviewing challenges about test questions, and score interpretation be given to test takers along with the registration form or score report.

The information for both California and New York State test takers is furnished in this booklet, and in the materials included with score reports. Complete descriptions of the content of the tests, along with information on test preparation and sample questions, are provided in the booklets The SAT Student Guide and The SAT Subject Tests Student Guide, which are available free of charge from school offices for students who plan to register for these tests.

See how to request SAT Student Answer Verification Services on page 16. In addition, students who took the SAT in California in December 2019 can review the test questions under secure conditions at the ETS Western Field Office in Concord, Calif., by calling 925-808-2000.

Predicting College Grades

The main purpose of the SAT is to determine how prepared students are to succeed, both in college and in career training programs. Because the SAT assesses the content that research shows matters most for college and career readiness, SAT scores provide meaningful information about a student’s likelihood of success in college. But the SAT should not be used as the sole source of information for high-stakes decisions.

A pilot predictive validity study was conducted in the fall semester of 2014 to give colleges and universities information about the relationship between the SAT and college grades. Under standardized conditions 2,050 first-time, first-year students across 15 four-year institutions were administered a pilot form of the redesigned SAT. First-year college performance data—courses taken and grades in those courses—for those students provided by the institutions in June 2015 inform the relationship of the predictive validity of redesigned SAT scores. Results of this research indicate that SAT scores, in combination with a student’s high school GPA, predict freshman GPA more accurately than SAT scores or high school GPA.
alone. For the students in the study, the multiple correlation between both SAT scores and high school and freshman GPA is 0.58. The correlation between the Evidence-Based Reading and Writing section scores and freshman GPA is 0.51, and between the SAT Math section scores and freshman GPA is 0.49. For both sections (SAT Evidence-Based Reading and Writing and SAT Math) the correlation with freshman GPA is 0.53, while the correlation between high school GPA and freshman GPA is 0.48. The combination of SAT scores and high school GPA raised the correlation 0.05 over SAT scores alone, and 0.10 over high school GPA alone. All correlations are adjusted for restriction of range to account for enrolled students’ narrower band of scores as compared to the wider range of scores observed in an applicant pool.

College Board is committed to maintaining and improving the high level of technical quality of the SAT as well as its rigorous validity research agenda. The results of ongoing research into the redesigned SAT will be released as they become available. Find out more at sat.org.

Procedures to Ensure Fairness and Equity All SAT test questions and editions of the tests are reviewed by external, independent educators throughout the United States. Content reviewers make sure that test materials are both relevant to the work students do in high school and measure their college and career readiness. Fairness reviewers ensure that test materials are accessible to all students, have no offensive or insensitive content, and aren’t made easier or harder by factors outside the subject being measured. In addition, questions that are statistically harder or easier than expected for a particular group of students to answer correctly based on those students’ performance on other questions in the test are excluded from the tests.

Relationship of SAT Scores to Family Income College Board no longer collects information regarding family income from test takers. Past data indicate that students from every income level obtain a full range of SAT scores.
